In March, Lesotho chaired the African Union (AU) Peace and Security Council (PSC). The Council convened six sessions during the month. Two sessions that formed part of the initial program of work were dropped during the course of the month.